DEPARTURE OF MR. & MRS. ANDO

Yesterday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Taro Ando called at Iolani Palace to say good bye to Her Majesty the Queen. Before leaving the Queen presented Mrs. Ando with one of her photographs.

Soon after ten o'clock this morning Mr. and Mrs. Ando arrived at the Oceanic Company's wharf to embark on the steamship Yamashiro Maru on their voyage to Japan. The Royal Hawaiian band was stationed on the wharf and played several selections. The diplomatic representatives of England, France and Portugal, members of the Consular corps, H. M.'s Vice-Chamberlain and a large number of ladies and gentlemen were present to say goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. Ando, who were the recipients of many floral offerings. At twenty minutes past ten o'clock they boarded the steam launch from H. I. J. M. S. Hi-ye and were conveyed on board the Yamashiro Maru, the band playing "Auld Lang Syne" and the Japanese national anthem.

KING KALAKAUA AS HE IS.

The King entered from an adjoining apartment. He wore a suit of white linen and low-cut white canvas shoes. He wore no decoration or jewelry of any kind save one solitaire diamond ring. After we had been introduced he invited us to be seated. We then had a very pleasant general conversation for threequarters of an hour. Then, shaking hands, we bid him good-bye. Before leaving he mentioned several persons in St. Louis he wished to be remembered to, and one lady he wished to be especially remembered to. He is about fifty-three years old, of good address and has received a good collegiate education. He speaks English fluently. The stories that are told about him not being able to go to the Paris Exposition for lack of money, etc., are not true. There are half a dozen wealthy men on the islands who would loan him all the money he might want at any time. His present salary is $20,000 per annum, with $8,000 added for household expenses and perquisites. The crown lands yield him an annual revenue of from $35,000 to $10,-000. Several years age he got in debt, and the latter amount is now used to pay off this debt. He voluntarily appointed three Commissioners to take charge of the crown lands and from the revenue pay his debts. This is so much to his credit, as by law he cannot be sued in any Court in the kingdom .- [St. Louis Post-Despatch.

New Free Tontine Policy

Equitable Life Assurance Society

A SIMPLE PROMISE TO PAY.

[From the NEW YORK TIMES, June 22, 1889.]

The Equitable Life Assurance Society has adopted a new form of policy which, like a bank draft, is a simple promise to pay without condiions on the back.

[From the CHICAGO INVESTIGATOR.]

Always on the alert, and ever anxious to give the public the most advantageous contract in life insurance, the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York has, in the past, made many advances on old methods, and has been the means to liberalize life assurance in a greater degree, perhaps, than any other organization. It is not at all surprising, therefore, that this great company now comes before the people with a new contract, the like of which has not before been known in life insurance.

[From the KENTUCKY REGISTER, Richmond, Ky., June 28, 188).]

The Equitable Life Assurance Society has, in the past, done more to create and maintain confidence in life assurance than any other company. Consequently its business is larger than that of any of its competitors. Furthermore, it has now taken a step which practically sweeps every objection of the character referred to out of the way. The result, undoubtedly, will be that thousands of men who have heretofore lacked confidence in life assurance, will examine the new policy offered by the Equitable, and assure their lives forthwith.

[From the Boston Post.]

This company has done more than any other to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance.

[From the Pacific Underwriter, San Francisco, July 1, 1889]

The Equitable has already established a world-wide reputation for liberal dealings with its policy-holders and for its prompt settlement of all egitimate claims against it, and this new policy cannot fail to enhance its reputation for enterprise and progressiveness in dealing with the subject of life assurance.
